TRUMP TAKES TOP SPOT IN USA TODAY/SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY POLL

July 14, 2015 (New York, N.Y.) - The latest poll from highly respected USA Today/ Suffolk University shows Donald Trump with 17% at the top of a crowded GOP field. Mr. Trump has been pulling ahead of the competition in recent weeks with his truthful talk on a number of issues, which has been resonating with voters across the country.

The USA Today/ Suffolk University poll is one of several recently released polls showing Mr. Trump as a definitive top tier choice for the 2016 Republican Presidential primary.

Also released this week, the most recent poll from Reuters, which shows Mr. Trump tied for first place alongside establishment candidate Jeb Bush and the latest results from the Monmouth University poll which shows Mr. Trump in second place with 13%. Both polls contributed to the Huffington Post pollster average showing Mr. Trump as the clear lead amongst the 2016 GOP field.

Mr. Trump will be in Laconia, New Hampshire on Thursday for a rally; he will then travel to Arkansas on Friday to meet with voters at the Republican Party of Arkansas's 2015 Reagan Rockefeller Dinner and will visit Iowa on Saturday where he will attend the Family Leadership Summit in Ames.
